First, thank you for taking the time to read this letter.

After reviewing some of the proposed solution to the Microsoft anti-trust settlement, I feel it leaves much to be desired.

I am an independant software programmer, and I feel stifled by the anti-competitive practices Microsoft has engaged in for many years. Many of my feelings on this subject can be summed up in Dan Kegel's Open letter to the department of Justice (<http://www.kegel.com/remedy/letter.html>)

Thank You,
